Why Smartsheet is the Right Tool for the Job

Simple - The Smartsheet interface is familiar and designed for how people really work, leading to rapid adoption across your organization. Projects and programs are easy to set up and don't require the help of IT, so you can have a solution up and running within hours.

Flexible - Sharing election results, managing a city's sewer and surface water systems, tracking and executing vendor contracts, and managing real estate can all be done with Smartsheet — no coding required.
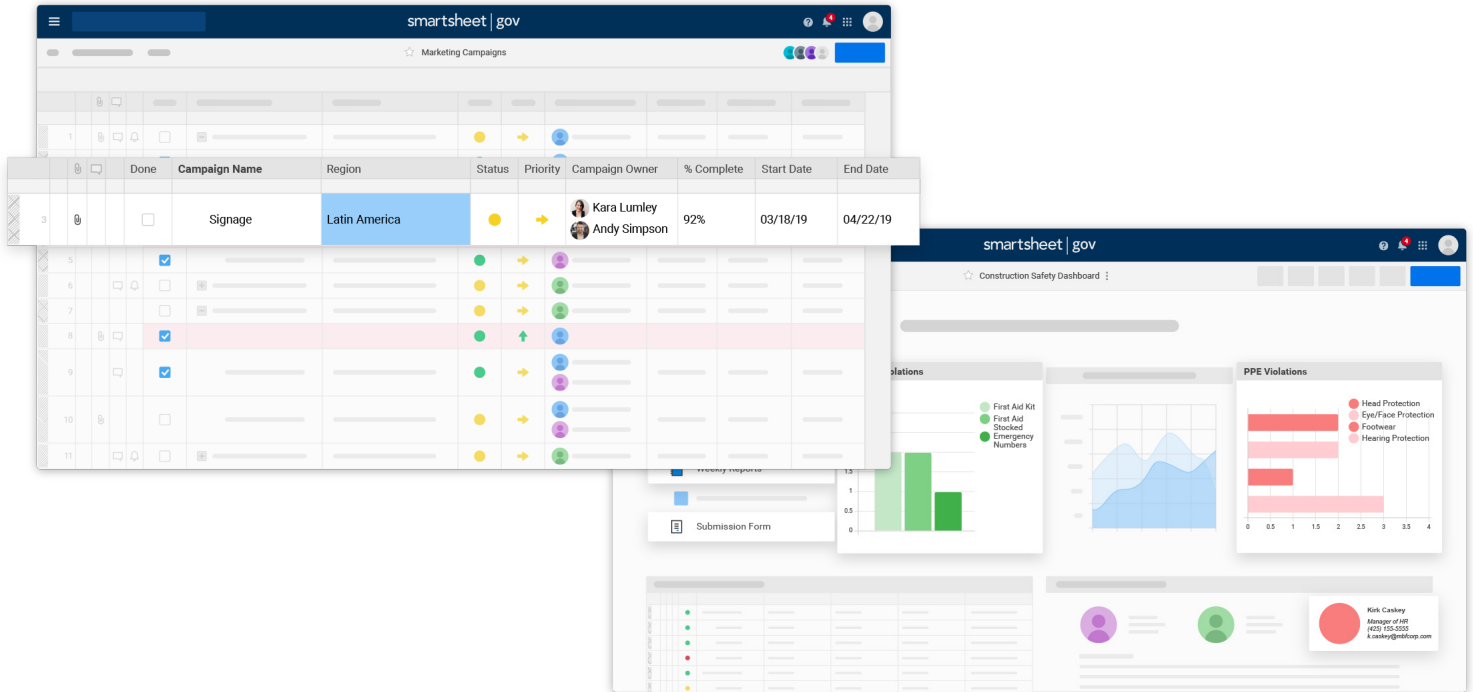

Transparent - Increase performance and accountability within your organization by identifying successes and fixing issues before they become failures. With clear accountabilities in place, you will have deeper ownership and more engaged teams and constituents.

Real-Time Access to Information - Bring visibility to projects and programs being managed in Smartsheet through dynamic dashboards. Give project owners and stakeholders a robust, real-time view into the status of top KPIs, critical trends, and summary reports.
