1. Identify Typical Sales Process Challenges

Challenge #1: It takes a village to close a deal

11.1

People involved in closing a deal¹

1. CEB Sales Complexity Assessment. 6.8 Customer stakeholders and 4.3 vendor co-workers.

Challenge #2: B2B sellers get 17% of buyers' time

Customer:

"Show me the product... and I'll connect the dots."

Challenge #3: Stop... drop... and report!

Sales manager to sales rep:

“What happened in last month’s forecast?”

Change the conversation: joint engagement plan

3. Understand CE Accelerator Components

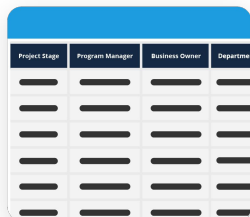

CE Accelerator components + workflow

CRM
Connectors

Information is brought into the solution automatically based on triggers set up in the Smartsheet CRM Connectors for Salesforce, Microsoft Dynamics or the API.

Collect opportunities in a sheet

A screenshot of a Smartsheet 'Intake sheet' with columns for Project Stage, Program Manager, Business Owner, and Department. It contains several rows of data represented by horizontal bars.

Project Stage	Program Manager	Business Owner	Department

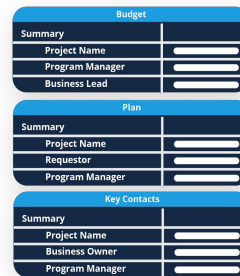

Each customer opportunity lives on a row in the Intake sheet. This serves as a tracking sheet for which are brought in and which are active and initiated. There is no need to update information directly on this sheet.

Select opportunity for engagement
plan

Customer Engagements are approved for Sales to self-serve with Control Center. Sales Management retains admin rights and visibility automatically.

Populate engagement
plan

A screenshot of an 'Engagement plan' template in Smartsheet, showing sections for Budget, Plan, and Key Contacts, each with a summary row and fields for Project Name, Program Manager, and Business Lead/Owner.

Project Name
Program Manager
Business Lead

Plan
Summary
Project Name
Requestor
Program Manager

Key Contacts
Summary
Project Name
Business Owner
Program Manager

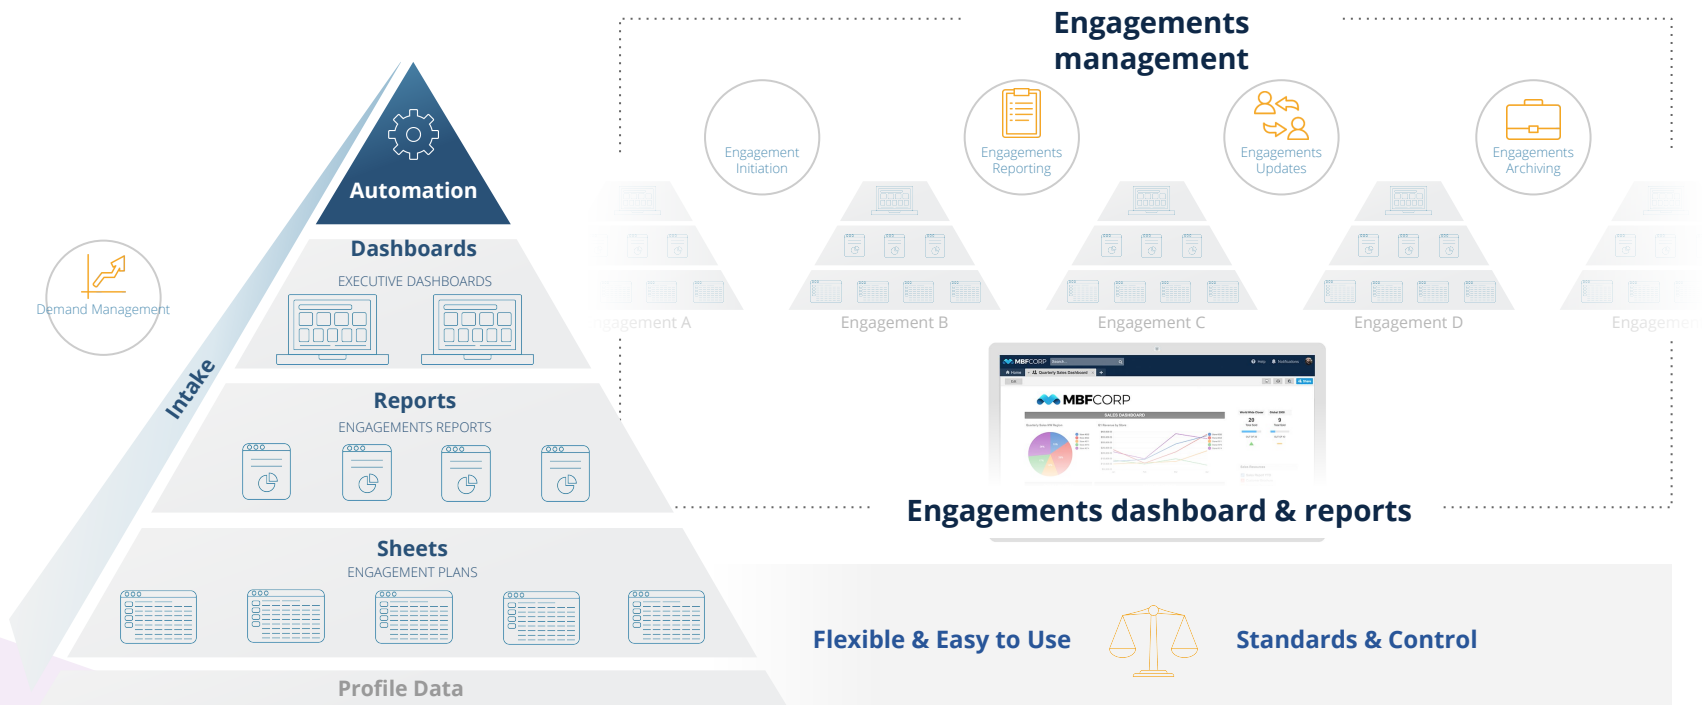

Control Center is configured to bring all of the information from the Intake sheet and populate the fields for the Customer Engagement project automatically.

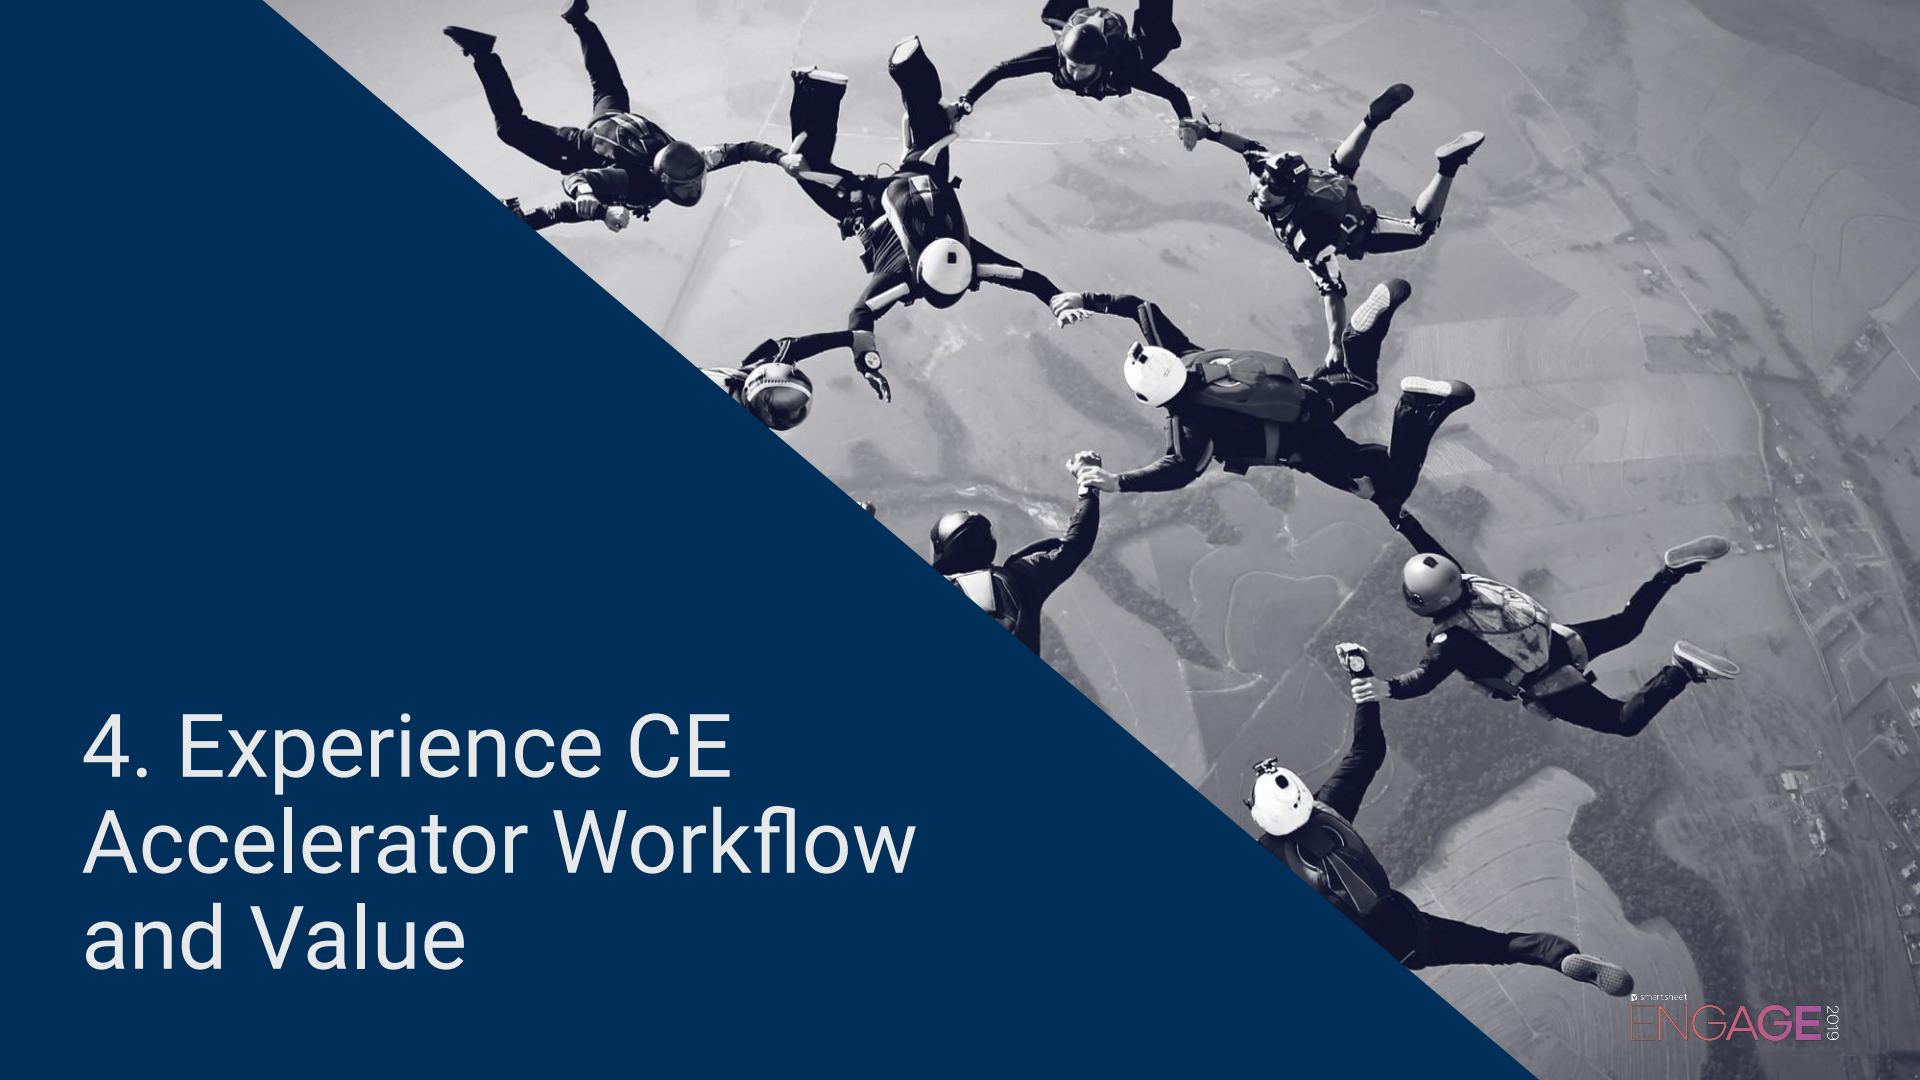

Update to CRM

Information gathered in Smartsheet is brought into your CRM, and as items change like ARR or Close Date, those are synced to the Engagement Workspace automatically to track changes over time.
